at 0400 on Sunday 24 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A snowy day turning clear and dry but icy overnight.

Today:
Sunday will be rather cloudy with outbreaks of sleet and snow arriving during the morning. This could become heavy for a time, though turning lighter and more patchy during the afternoon. Maximum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Tonight:
The snow should clear south early this evening, leaving a largely clear night. Turning very cold where snow sticks. Risk of ice. Patchy cloud and isolated wintry showers later. Minimum temperature -10 deg C (14 deg F).

Monday:
A largely dry and at times sunny day, with any morning fog soon clearing. Cold again, although less so in the southwest. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Tuesday largely dry, though rain and possible hill sleet arriving from the southwest in the afternoon. Wednesday and Thursday cloudy with outbreaks of rain, possibly heavy, and strong winds.
